I support Revive! Congratulations on the work already manifested! I especially commend First Nations First - as a way to reaffirm our fundamental cultural identity - that connection to land and sky that embraces us. Language revival is integral to the process as language ensures ongoing respect and understanding of Country. ... as an arts panel assessor, as well as applying for grants, I have experienced and witnessed First Nations applications being rejected in general pools and forced into First Nations pools - even when the subject doesn't centre First Nations stories...
