

National Cultural Policy Submission

1469878

Public and anonymous

Individual

Short submission (text box 500 words or less)

Community arts and cultural development brings people together from all different skill sets and ways of expression this is important in a world full of community competitive spaces

Rooms to speak and move through without any sense of winning or losing just existing and creating

This as an acknowledged important subject feels fundamental for community development and cultural understanding and potency within shared stories between members of community

Competitive community spaces have a place alongside not in replacement of third spaces