

National Cultural Policy Submission

1469968

Public and anonymous

Individual

Short submission (text box 500 words or less)

Video games are one of the industries Australia is positioned to be a powerful player in. Our domestic talent is absurdly outsized for both our population and the funding available to them. With continued support and fostering, it will continue to provide a space for jobs, community, and creativity for the public.