I am excited about the focus on developing a new National Cultural Policy by the Australian Government that will shape the future direction of the creative and cultural sector.

I agree that building on the success of Revive: A place for every story, a story for every place, the new policy will create the opportunity to address gaps, respond to emerging priorities, and provide a clear framework to support a vibrant and sustainable cultural future.

I would support the aim of the policy to set a clear direction for the coming years and guide how we support creativity, cultural expression and participation across the nation.

I am encouraged by the fact that the policy will continue to be structured around the 5 pillars first set out in Revive:

First Nations First

A Place for Every Story

Centrality of the Artist

Strong Cultural Infrastructure

Engaging the Audience

I am hopeful that this will lead to securing financial support for the people filming big movies in Australia and getting up on the big screen in regional Location such as in \,a town like Alice\, Springs Cinema.
