Public and Educational Lending Rights (PLR and ELR) Eligibility information for creators

PLEASE NOTE: As a creator who wishes to use an Australian literary agent to administer your lending rights, you must complete and sign this form along with your first title claim.

Public and Educational Lending Rights make payments to eligible Australian creators and publishers in recognition that income is lost from the availability of their books in public and educational lending libraries. PLR makes payments for eligible books held in public lending libraries and ELR makes payments for eligible books held in educational lending libraries (schools, TAFE and university libraries).

PLR is administered in accordance with the Public Lending Right Act 1985 and the Public Lending Right Scheme 2016. ELR is administered in accordance with the Educational Lending Rights Policies and Procedures 2011 available from this website www.arts.gov.au/funding-and-support/lending-rights.

How do I register with Lending Rights?

- through Lending Rights Online \(LRO\) available at www.lendingrights.arts.gov.au/lendingrights/; or
- by completing forms available from www.arts.gov.au/funding-and-support/lending-rights.

If you have agreed with your literary agent that they are to receive your PLR and ELR payments on your behalf, please complete your literary agent's banking details. If not, please complete your banking details.

For your 'Creator's Registration through Literary Agent' to be valid, you must also submit a 'Title Claim for Creator' form.

Am I an eligible creator?

Eligible creators are:

- authors, editors, illustrators, translators and compilers
- Australian citizens, wherever they reside
- non-citizens who normally reside in Australia (eligibility ceases if residency in Australia ceases); and
- those who are receiving on-going royalties from the sale of their book.

Is my book eligible?

Eligible books are:

- books with an International Standard Book Number (ISBN)
- books which have been published and offered for sale, and a claim submitted within five years from the year of publication
- books which have a catalogue record in an Australian bibliographic database
- books whose creators are individuals (companies or organisations are not eligible creators); and
- books with no more than five eligible creators.

Items such as electronic books, CDs, audio-visual kits and card packs are not eligible.

Further information

Goods and services Tax (GST): Payments made under the PLR and ELR programs are not subject to GST.

NOTE: Claimants need to declare PLR and ELR payments for income tax purposes.

Freedom of Information: Under the Freedom of Information Act claimants may seek exemption from disclosure of information about their payments. However the PLR Committee reserves the right to include names of claimants and books in its annual report provided that the inclusion of such information does not identify the actual payments received by the claimant or the relative ranking of the claimant.
