

Submission to the National Arts and Disability Strategy consultation 2018 – K Steinhardt

Hi,

The arts and its online community is very important to me not only can I express myself in my art to others that I may not normally be able too but it is relaxing and calming and has assisted greatly in my recovery.

I love drawing cartoons and like to draw some on positive messages around mental health awareness.

I have not been able to find a group to join to draw my cartoons with in Melbourne and be able to share ideas and work in person. I draw them at home but would benefit from being able to join the arts community in some way other than online.

I would like to see more groups set up for mentoring and sharing art with others in the community.

Thank you

Kylie.

PH: [redacted]

Email: [redacted]

Schizophrenia sometimes makes me think deeply, feel deeply and I try to work out how to be a part of our complex world